Possible questions - most likely addressed though the confusion matrix
- at what accuracy does DA capture attendances
- at what accuracy does DA capture absences
- how many and what % of students have no DA attendance records but do have manual attendance records (indicating that they don't use wi-fi enabled device in class)
- how many and what % students have sporadic DA attendance records but do have manual attendance records (indicating that they occasionally use wi-fi enabled device in class)
- how many and what % students have accurate DA attendance records but do have manual attendance records (indicating that they consistently use wi-fi enabled device in class)
